THE LISTENING POST

• The history of our war in the Pacific until the past few weeks is a record of lost and missed opportunities. Perhaps the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor might be called a natural affair for a Nation which has always loved peace and which has never lowered itself to barbarian methods of warfare. That remains to be decided in the future after the war has been won. Then there will be ample time to consider dispassionately the things which have happened in the first few months of this Japanese war.

• Pearl Harbor, however, is not the only missed and bugged opportunity. It was the most costly without doubt, but we were missing opportunities before that date and others afterwards. Only the other day I read something which purported to explain why the Japanese so easily bombed Dutch Harbor and landed troops in some of the Aleutian Islands. According to this story the blame rests largely on the lack of cooperation between the Army and Navy. Months ago, before the war started, the Army picked a site for an air field which would give some measure of protection to the United States base at Dutch Harbor and also to the entire Aleutian chain. After the preliminary investigation the Navy was told that the Army planned this air field, and at once the Navy objected. "We can protect Dutch Harbor," Navy brass hats said.

• When war broke out suddenly the Navy found, after the Pearl Harbor losses, that Dutch Harbor could not be properly defended without additional air fields for land-based bombers and fighters. Then work of building the base which had been proposed by the Army was started—but the enemy struck before the base was completed. Doubtless they knew all about the field, for Japanese vessels for years have steamed around and through the Aleutians. So Dutch Harbor was damaged to some extent and enemy forces landed on other islands. The expedition probably will finally be blasted out, but it will be more costly than it would have been had they been kept off these fog-shrouded islands.

• The strangest missed opportunity, however, to my mind, occurred in the Philippines. I have never been able to understand this, and have never seen anything which offered an explanation for a strange and bewildering delay. It will be remembered that Pearl Harbor suffered the surprise attack on Sunday morning. I remember I thought that Sunday afternoon that Manila was probably getting the same pounding and wondered what was being done about it. I hoped then that the Pearl Harbor attack would give the Philippines time to get ready for the attack. Understand I had no illusions about the islands. I was certain that the Japanese would take this American outpost in due time, but I hoped that sufficient time had been given Manila to be ready.

• Yet ten hours after the Pearl Harbor attack Japanese bombers roared over the Manila air fields and wrecked practically all the United States air strength on the ground. Few if any planes ever got into the air and the Japs were virtually undamaged. Had those American bombers gone into action as soon as the news of Pearl Harbor reached Manila vast damage might have been done to Jap bases from which the bombers came to blast Clark Field at Manila. Yet for some reason, unknown to me, the bombers remained on the ground to become prey for the Rising Sun bombers within a few short hours. A plane on the ground is worthless, and destruction of squadrons while they rest on the flying fields is a military tragedy.

• This is another question which

Individual May Get Axe In New Tax Program As Committee Gets Ready To Take "It Out Of Hide"

Measure Is Short Of Desired Goal By Three And One Half Million

NEW MERCY PLEA SUBMITTED TO JAPS BY U. S.

Washington. — The United States, seeking to overcome Japan's objections to an earlier plan for shipping supplies to prisoners of war under supervision of the International Red Cross, today offered Japan an alternative proposal.

The United States, in a note by Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles transmitted to the Japanese Government through Swiss authorities, proposed that the supplies be relayed in American and Japanese Red Cross ships meeting at Portuguese East Africa.

D. B. GRAHAM SERIOUSLY INJURED AT STOCKYARDS HERE

Prominent Hickman Cattleman Is Struck By Steer; Receives Skull Fracture

David B. Graham of Clinton, prominent Hickman county resident and brother of the late J. Ray Graham of this city, was seriously injured this morning at the Kennett-Murray-Latta stockyards, when he was struck by a steer. Graham and several others from Clinton were at the stockyards with several carloads of steers and while loading the animals on the train, one of the steers broke loose and charged into Mr. Graham. He was brought to the Fulton hospital for treatment and X-rays show that his skull is fractured. The extent of his injuries is undetermined at present, but at present time this morning, he had not regained consciousness.

The accident occurred about 9 o'clock this morning.

MULE BACK ON FARM AFTER SECOND TRIP TO CITY'S BRIGHT LIGHTS

Maysville, Ky. — Grace, the mule which defies locks and fences, was back on the Howard Phillips farm Monday after a second "unescorted" visit to the bright lights of Maysville.

Three weeks ago Grace was captured by Maysville police after wandering from the Phillips farm. But that visit wasn't enough and again Phillips was called to the Maysville Livestock Yards where police had placed Grace in custody.

Phillips says the animal is too smart. He hasn't been able to place a lock on any gate on his farm that the mule cannot open.

Hitler In Annual Help Plea Asks For Full Measure Of Sacrifice

New York. — Adolf Hitler, in his annual winter help campaign plea, broadcast over the Berlin radio, today called on the German people for the "fullest sacrifices."

OBS, which recorded Berlin's summary of the appeal, said it was largely a repetition of Nazi propaganda against "Jews, plutocrats and Communists," but emphasized the "terrible sacrifices" the German soldiers are making at the front.

Hitler noted that he was speaking "at the start of the fourth year of war which the German people are waging in order to be or not to be," and that German soldiers were "risking their lives and their health" in a world wide front.

"If today the American and English agents claim that they want to build a new and better world

Washington. — Senator LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.), charged tonight that the Senate finance committee was preparing to make up "out of the hide" of individual taxpayers approximately $1,000,000,000 of potential annual revenues lost in its revisions to date of the new tax bill.

With the measure standing about $3,400,000,000 short of providing the $8,700,000,000 increase in revenues sought by the Treasury, LaFollette told reporters it seemed expedient to him that the committee planned to "soak" individuals to make up part of the difference.

On motion of Senator Connally (D.-Tex.), the committee rejected today a Treasury proposal to eliminate percentage depletion allowances for petroleum and mine ventures and to establish such credits on a cost basis. Randolph Paul, Treasury general counsel, previously had said such a change would add $200,000,000 in early revenues and would not interfere with the war effort.

"When the committee refuses to close such loopholes as these," LaFollette declared after the session, "it becomes apparent where additional revenue is going to have to be obtained. The individual taxpayer is going to get the axe just where the chicken got it."

The new tax bill, as it passed the House, was estimated to raise $6,271,000,000 in new revenue but Senate committee actions have cut this by about $1,000,000,000.

C. A. BOYD, JR. IS MADE SERGEANT

C. A. Boyd, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boyd, Second street, who is in the Army Air Corps at Nashville, Tenn., has been promoted to the rank of sergeant, according to a message received this morning by his parents.

He is stationed at Berry Field, 346 Air Base Squadron, Nashville, Tenn.

PRAYER MEETING RESUMES TONIGHT HARTMAN ANNOUNCES

The Board of Stewards, Mr. Smith Atkins, Chairman, will convene in the First Methodist Church tonight at 7:15 o'clock to plan fall activities and the closing of the conference year.

The First Methodist Church will resume the mid-week services tonight at 8:00 o'clock. This service inaugurates another ten-month period of Wednesday night services which have proved so successful. The benediction is pronounced promptly at 8:45 o'clock.

than the one they used to have x x x then it would have been unnecessary to attack the German Reich of all things.

"The attempt of the international oppressors of humanity, Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin, to starve out the European peoples can now be considered as definitely having failed.

"But when in these hardly imaginable conditions, the German soldier in the field makes his terrible sacrifices, the fatherland is this year even more obliged to make the fullest sacrifices, if it wants to do only a small fraction of what our wehrmacht does in the field."

Hitler's proclamation as read over the radio concluded with the words: "Therefore, I expect that the fatherland in this winter help, fulfills its duty."

Government Charges Advertising Of Cigarettes Is Misleading

Washington. — The Federal Trade Commission announced today it had issued complaints against the American Tobacco Company and American Cigarette and Cigar Company, Inc., both of New York, charging misrepresentation in cigarette advertising.

The complaint involves advertising for Lucky Strike and Pall Mall cigarettes.

Recently the commission issued similar complaints against the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company concerning advertising for Camel cigarettes and Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco and against the Philip Morris Company with respect to Philip Morris and Alfred Dunhill cigarettes. These companies have been given until September 15 to reply.

The American Tobacco complaint alleges, the F. T. C. said that, the company advertised, among other things, that Lucky Strike cigarettes were "toasted, had less acid than other popular brands, were less irritating to the throat and contained less nicotine, and that better and higher priced tobacco was used."

The commission said that in general such representations and implications were "inaccurate, false and misleading."

The complaint against American Cigarette alleges, the F. T. C. announced, that the company misrepresented in advertisements that Pall Malls caused less stain on the fingers and protected the throat. It charged further that the package cover contained misleading representations that the cigarettes were endorsed by the royal family. Both companies were given twenty days in which to reply.

VOTE TO RETAIN HOUSE SCHEDULE OF CORPORATION TAX

Includes 90 Per Cent Levy On Corporation Profits

Washington. — The Senate finance committee voted today to retain most of the House schedule of corporation taxes in the new revenue bill, including a 90 per cent excess profits levy and combined rate of 45 per cent on normal and surplus income.

The committee voted 11 to 8 for the 45 per cent rate after it had rejected, 13 to 6, a motion by Senator Bailey (D.-N. C.), to cut this to 40 per cent. The Treasury had proposed that the combined rate be made 55 per cent.

Approving the rates established by the House for corporations with $25,000 annual income or less, the committee voted 9 to 6 to insert a new Treasury proposal by which no corporation would pay more than 80 per cent of its next excess profits tax income in taxes to the government.

While this would reduce the amount of potential revenue, Chairman George (D.-Ga.), said, a net increase of approximately $50,000,000 would be afforded in receipts from corporations by reduction of the flat excess profits tax exemption of $10,000 voted by the House to $5,000.

Thus a corporation which had earnings high enough to reach the excess profits brackets could subtract only $5,000, as it may do under the present law, before it figured its excess profits liability.

Chairman George (D.-Ga.), said the vote for the 10 per cent rebate was 12 to 8. He explained that a company, after figuring its surtaxes and excess profits liability, could take 10 per cent of that amount to purchase non-negotiable and non-interest bearing bonds which would become cashable in installments two years after the war.

A company could elect, however, to apply some of this credit to the reduction of debts incurred before Jan. 1, 1942. It could use the entire amount for this purpose provided that it put $1.50 of other funds with each $1 of the tax credit money in meeting these debts.

HICKMAN FUR DEALERS ARRESTED AND FINED

James and Rogers, fur dealers of Hickman, Ky., entered a plea of guilty in County Court at Hickman on August 31, and were fined $25.00 and $14.50 for buying and possessing two other hides. Investigation carried on by Federal Game Agents and State Game Warden brought out the facts that James and Rogers bought two other hides about Feb. 1, 1942 and transported same to St. Louis, Mo.

MEREDITH ATTACKS MANPOWER BOARD FOR BUREAUCRACY

Makes Reply To Letter From Washington Board

Frankfort, Ky. — A charge that "extension of bureaucratic activities to non-war efforts it rapidly developing an under current of opposition to the set-up in Washington" was made by Attorney General Hubert Meredith today.

The outspoken Kentuckian made the declaration in replying to a letter from the War Manpower Commission in Washington asking about state laws governing separation of the races in the public schools.

Meredith cited the state constitution bars discrimination in educational advantages and endorsed the state laws providing separate schools for white and Negro children. He then asked:

"Please kindly tell me what contribution your committee is making to the war effort by inquiring into the school system of Kentucky, and by trying to stir up and keep alive racial prejudices during this critical period of our history?"

Declaring it made no difference in selecting manpower whether a man had been educated in a school for white, one for Negroes or one in which both races were taught, Meredith asserted "the diversion of your war effort to an investigation of the school system of Kentucky represents bureaucracy gone to seed."

The attorney general declared that "it is thought that under the separate school systems, each race enjoys a fuller opportunity for development and for retention of idealisms and characteristics peculiar to the race."

"The white race is in reality being discriminated against in matters of taxation for support of colored schools, but they have not complained against it rather than bring on a civil war in Kentucky by undertaking to place colored and white in the same schools."

State Draft Boards Instructed To Call Up Single Men First— Speed-Up Is Made Necessary

New Ruling Will Lighten Load Of Some Sections Of Nation

FIRE LOOKOUT JOBS TAKEN BY NEWLYWEDS

Missoula, Mont. — They're combining honeymoons with business now.

Forest service officials, hard pressed to find single men for fire lookouts in competition with the draft and well-paying defense jobs, have hired married couples, many of them newlyweds.

The experiment is highly successful the officials say. They sum it up this way:

It doubles the efficiency of lookout stations. It is a remarkably healthy way to spend the summer and it provides the newly-married couples with a nice bank account as there isn't any place to spend money.

FOODS NOT TOPPED ON PRICES PLAGUE TO NATION'S EFFORTS

Efforts Are Retarded To Control
Certain Prices

Chicago. — Like leaks in a dike, prices of several important foods not affected by ceilings are slipping up to plague the nation's effort to keep down the cost of living, study of market prices showed today.

Some foods, however, like flour and poultry have behaved as though they were covered by the price control blanket spread over the nation early last spring.

The fact that the umbrella over food costs, seeking to hold them to March peaks, has been punctured in numerous places is no surprise to market experts. This is almost unavoidable, they said, considering the tremendous buying power built up as a result of the war as well as heavy military requirements for food and huge export of important items like dairy and poultry products under lend-lease arrangements.

Puncturing of the ceilings of some foods and rises in prices of certain uncontrolled items have helped to lift the cost of eating since the ceilings went into effect in May. Ceilings were fixed at top prices quoted in March.

The latest Associated Press index of food prices was 82.79 compared with 76.61 at the March high, basis of ceiling prices on controlled foods. A year ago it was 74.03. The Dun and Bradstreet index, representing total wholesale prices per pound of 31 foods, stood at $3.80, new peak since 1925, compared with $3.60 in March. This was 54 cents higher than a year ago and $1.51 higher than two years ago. A similar upturn is shown by the Bureau of Labor Statistics analysis.

Grew Says Japan Can Only Be Crushed By Offensive

Washington. — "A swashbuckling" Japan can be crushed only by an offensive war leading to "complete defeat in battle," Joseph C. Grew, for 10 years United States ambassador to Tokyo, told the nation last night.

Grew, in his first public report since returning on the Gripsholm, warned that America was fighting a "powerful fighting machine, a people whose morale cannot and will not be broken even by successive defeats, who will certainly not be broken by economic hardships."

He said the Japs were a people who "individually and collectively will gladly sacrifice their lives for their emperor and their nation and who can be brought to earth only by x x x complete defeat in battle."

Washington. — Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey today instructed state Selective Service directors to arrange induction calls so that married men would not be drafted in some localities while single men were still uncalled in others.

The Selective Service director said state officials should arrange their calls on local boards "so as to place the heaviest load right now on boards having the most single men, or men with collateral dependents only."

Hershey's memorandum to state directors also instructed local boards to complete by Oct. 16 the initial classification of all registrants.

This speed-up must be made, he said, because "the serious military situation" requires that the Selective Service System be prepared to fill calls in 1943 which "will be equal to or in excess of the monthly calls made in August, September, and October of this year."

This procedure, Hershey added, will tend to level off inductions with "the ultimate objective of calling men from the small town and from the city on an approximately uniform basis."

Hershey reiterated a Selective Service policy to "follow the order of dependency deferrals" established in the Dependents Allowance Act.

Registrants having wives and children, or children alone, with whom a "bonafide home" is maintained, and who were married before Dec. 8, 1941, at a time when selection for service was not imminent, will not be placed in Class 1-A, available for immediate induction, Hershey assured.

He declared, however, that as needs for occupational deferments expire, single men and others not conforming to the type currently being inducted, will be called.

Local boards were instructed to begin promptly the reconsideration of registrants in classes 3-A and 3-B who have collateral dependents. Registrants with collateral dependents, Hershey said, are to be inducted ahead of men who maintain bonafide family homes.

Collateral dependents include wives or children with whom the registrant does not maintain a family relationship, and other persons supported by him.

Hershey declared that of registrants between 18 and 20 years "only those who have actually reached their 20th birthday are subject to call until such time as Congress may modify the law."

Senator Taft (R.-Ohio), predicted that Congress would be called upon this fall to make 18-and-19-year-old registrants subject to the draft.

Confirming atrocity stories of other Americans back from Japan, Grew told of the bayoneting of captured soldiers and the "water cure" given elderly American missionaries.

The former ambassador, who said these atrocities represented the "ugly" side of the Japanese nature, assailed the "Japanese military machine which brought on this war," charging it with "cruelty, brutality and utter bestiality."

Grew said that if Americans attempted to continue leading normal lives, leaving sacrifices to members of the armed forces, "we shall unquestionably risk the danger of a stalemate in this war of ours with Japan."

WE DARE NOT BE LESS RESO- LUTE IN WAR

"We are up against a powerful fighting machine, a people whose morale cannot and will not be broken even by successive defeats, who will certainly not be broken by economic hardships, a people who individually and collectively will gladly sacrifice their lives for their emperor and their nation and who can be brought to earth only by complete defeat in battle."

Thus former Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, newly returned from Tokyo, delivers the coup de grace to the lingering delusion that we are fighting an enemy contemptible in strength. The chronology of events since Pearl Harbor in every respect bears out the truth of Mr. Grew's warning. His official endorsement of the sickening tales of cruelty and savagery which have seeped out of Japanese territory and the conquered lands merely emphasize the manner of enemy we must defeat. Our foe is not funny and ineffectual, a cartoonist's creature of bow legs, weak eyes and buck teeth. He is grim, deadly, unsparing, hard as iron, fanatic with hatred for us and all that we represent. In his millions he is willing to go cold and hungry and sleepless and to die in agony for the advancement of the destiny of Japan.

Against this ruthless incarnation of aggression we are pitting our so-far languid effort. Mr. Grew warns us solemnly that if what we are now doing is the best we can do, we shall never defeat Japan. We are fighting, he warns, not to punish an impertinent and inferior attacker, but "to prevent the enslavement which actually threatens to fall upon us if we fail."

The words of the former Ambasador confirm a truth which we still are reluctantly learning the hard way. And that is that the great counter-revolution of brute force and enslavement now ravaging the world is not something which a conviction of righteousness plus a token show of force will enable us to withstand. One of the dreadful marvels of our age is that two races, utterly dissimilar in background and culture and separated by thousands of miles, should deliberately elect a return to savagery emboldened by the horror available to Twentieth-Century man, with the same aims and the identical methods. We and our allies must fight two armies of brutal brilliance, neither of which could learn anything from the other. Unless we not only match but surpass them in brilliance, in intensity of effort, in singleminded devotion to a purpose, the thousands and years of slavery of which Hitler has warned us are no mere words. They are the hope upon which our enemies are gambling every effort and sacrifice and treachery of the past ten years.
And they are the fate which only an equal fixity of purpose, an equal desperate determination, an equal will to stake everything we have and hope for, will avert for our children—Courier-Journal.

LISTENING POST (Continued from page-1)

I hope to see answered after the war is over. Had MacArthur been able to save any considerable number of his planes he might still be holding the Japs off. When his entire air strength was lost on the ground all hope vanished. It is true that he made history in his Bataan campaign, but with a few this year. The greens have been far better than usual, and the fairways have been magnificent all season. Rough has been held to a minimum, and all told the golf course was at its peak for the first of the war year.

SPORT TALK

This week really marks the end of organized golf at the Country Club, although play will continue for several weeks. The championships for men and women in both flights will be decided by Sunday, and interest will gradually wane from that date on. Many persons will continue to play for several months yet, but the youngsters will soon disappear from the course as school and football claim their attention. Looking back at the past summer it must be admitted that in many ways this season has probably marked high tide in interest.
While the membership has been smaller, and while the financial aspect has not been what it might have been, there has really been more interest in golf than ever before, and this despite the fact that no tournaments have been played with golfers from other towns. This is perhaps the first time that no such tournaments have been played and many local people believed this would damage interest in the club. That it did not is a happy thing, and this can be traced to interest built up by the various club tournaments and particularly because the women members of the club created a lot of interest with their tournaments and championship play. There was more of this than ever before, and the championship tournament among the women has attracted as much attention as did the men's tournament.

Harley Dunn who has been groundskeeper at the club for fifteen years, left for California yesterday to reside in the future. This will be a loss to the club, for Mr.
Dunn has done a lot of valuable work on the property and this year the golf course has reached a new peak in the opinion of many players. Perhaps weather conditions helped, for rain came at opportune times, but with all this, the golf course has really been at its best this year. The greens have been far better than usual, and the fair-

ways have been magnificent all season. Rough has been held to a minimum, and all told the golf course was at its peak for the first of the war year.

The Union City Tornado, under the tutelage of Coach Wallace, who is an old hand at the game, started yesterday. Reports from the Tennessee town stated that only a dozen boys showed up for the first light practice session, which consisted of light setting up exercises, jogging down under punts and throwing and receiving passes. It is said that about 40 boys will make up the squad before the season is far advanced. The Tornado lost heavily by graduation and must rebuild from the bottom, but as a general rule Union City has much material from year to year and the team will probably be up in the running with most of the towns in West Tennessee. The Tornado opens the season on September 18 in Mayfield, but the Cards will have played one game before that date this year. Union City plays here in late September.

Coach Gill issued uniforms and equipment to about a dozen of his prospective Bulldogs yesterday morning and immediately took this group to the playing field and began informal practice. A couple of hours of running, passing and limb-ing up occupied the boys and they were ordered to come back in the afternoon. Practices will be held twice daily for this week and next week, as school session begin, the regular practices will be held in the afternoons only. Some of the boys who will be out for the team are still working and wish to keep up their jobs as long as possible, but before the end of the week it is expected the squad will grow to 20 or more. Assistant Coach Pete Garrett, who has been working in Mayfield for the past summer, was on hand and will be of great help to the new coach, as he knows the boys well. He directed spring practice in the absence of Coach Gilles, who left here in May.

I AM OLD-FASHIONED BUT STILL IN STYLE

I am the Minute Man of 1776. I brought hope to a struggling Nation then, and I stand today for the hopes and fears of the American people. I represent the fighting heart of the Nation, and this heart beats as strongly today as it did a century and half ago.

Our problems are as grave as they were then, and again our men are fighting and dying to solve those problems in order that we may hold that freedom the men of 1776 gave us. Those men must be supplied with fighting tools, and these tools cost money—billions and billions of dollars.

There is just one way to get this money. War Bonds must be bought from the savings of the American people. Buy War Bonds regularly

TAX ON SPENDING SEEMS HEADED FOR A STORMY SESSION

Washington. —A forthcoming Treasury proposal for imposition of a stiff new tax on individual spending today appeared headed for a stormy reception in the Senate finance committee.

Proponents of a retail sales tax served notice shortly after Chairman George (D-Go.), had announced that the committee would receive the new Treasury proposals Tuesday, that they did not like the levy which George outlined to reporters yesterday.

As explained by the chairman, a tax of possibly 10 per cent would be levied against all money spent by an individual over and above certain specified exemptions. George said Treasury officials hoped that such a levy, which would be in addition to regular income and other taxes, would yield between four and five billion dollars and at the same time check inflationary spending.

Calling the proposed new tax "vicious" in some of its aspects, Senator Clark (D-Mo.), said he felt it would be a good deal more objectionable than an outright retail sales tax, which he also has opposed.

George, who disclosed the outlines of the plan without endorsing or opposing it, said he did not believe the proposed new tax would affect persons with incomes of $1,000 or less annually.

The Treasury meanwhile was reported to have served notice on the finance committee that it would seek to increase social security taxes to a combined total of 5 per cent on employers and employees after work on the revenue bill is completed.

Estimating that a levy of this nature would yield $2,500,000,000 annually—an increase of approximately $1,500,000,000 over the present revenue from this source—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), said he and others were prepared to offer vigorous opposition.

THE TIME IS SHORT

Training for Victory

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WOMEN held one of every four jobs in war industries during World War I. It has been estimated that only 500,000 women now are employed in war work as against 2,228,000 in the closing months of World War I. How women will be trained in one of the big problems at this time.

Rufus T. Strohm

It is surprising how quickly the average young woman can adjust herself to the role of war worker. For many it means a complete change in the way of living.

A Bureau of Census report shows that there are 15,000,000 housewives between 18 and 44 years old. They constitute the principal reserve from which additional labor might be drawn, but nearly all of them lack training for skilled or semi-skilled war work.

In the industries basic to the war effort fully three-fourths of the labor demands that will arise can be met by the type of unskilled labor prevailing in the potential labor reserve of women.

This nation's plans for manpower mobilization are said to be based largely on British experience. In Great Britain aircraft workers, skilled and semi-skilled, are mostly women. That may happen here.

Silencing of radio stations sometimes means that air raiders are in the vicinity.

fleet suffered heavily during August.

This authority, who asked not to be quoted by name, said the small amount of Allied tonnage sunk in August and the heavy losses of German U-boats in the same period make this one of the most encouraging months at sea since the outbreak of the war.

He warned, however, that these conclusions must be balanced by caution against over-optimism. Despite the successes of the Allies, he said, a submarine fleet of a size undreamed of in pre-war calculations is being directed against the sea lanes of the United Nations.

GOVT. NOT PLANNING TO CHANGE STATE'S SEGREGATION LAWS

Washington.—An official of the President's committee on fair employment practice declared today his request to Kentucky's attorney general for a digest of the state's school laws requiring segregation of white and Negro pupils was not concerned with any attempt to change such laws.

George M. Johnson, assistant executive secretary of the committee, which recently was placed under the War Manpower Commission, said the committee's jurisdiction extended merely to making recommendations to federal agencies concerned with training and employment in war industries, in this instance the Office of Education.

State Attorney General Hubert Meredith issued a statement in Frankfort, Ky., Monday charging that an attempt was being made to tear down segregation laws in southern schools.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL LEADS in WAR DRIVE

PRIZED among members of the Illinois Central family is the following telegram from Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board:

"Congratulations to the men of the Illinois Central Railroad on being the first representatives of a major railroad to embrace the War Production Drive by establishment of a labor-management committee of sixteen members to be known as the Employees' War Production Drive General Suggestion Committee."

"You are giving your support to an effort that now embraces over three million war workers in some 1,300 corporations and plants in all forms of war production. "War-time transportation such as your railroad can and must service is an absolute essential to victory."

Mr. Nelson's telegram came in response to the announcement that, effective August 20, the Employees' Suggestion System of the Illinois Central would line up in the national War Production Drive according to a plan recommended to industries generally by the War Production Board.

That meant giving particular emphasis to ideas that will expedite war production by increasing the general effectiveness of the Illinois Central in the war effort. It also meant having equal representation of labor and management on the committees handling the suggestion system.

Responding patriotically to the invitation, members of the Illinois Central General Chairmen's Association nominated eight of their number to serve on the general committee, and our department heads selected eight management representatives. The division and shops committees will likewise be organized with equal representation of labor and management.

We of the Illinois Central are enthusiastic over these changes. We truly believe they promise much for the War Production Drive, the Employees' Suggestion System and the Illinois Central family as a whole—which is just another way of saying the entire public service, both in war and in peace, to which this railroad is dedicated.

That Extra Something!
...You can spot it every time

ON the campus or off, Coca-Cola has that extra something that rates with youth. That's why Coca-Cola—a long-established product—belongs to the younger set year after year. Choicest, special ingredients and special care in its making, give Coca-Cola a special refreshing taste and quality.

This unique taste comes from a finished art in its making, unknown to others... a blend of flavor-essences merging the ingredients of Coca-Cola into a taste all its own. And it leaves that unmistakable after-sense of refreshment that everybody recognizes... and welcomes.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Coca-Cola and Coke mean the same thing... the real thing... "a single thing coming from a single source, and well known to the community".

"Let's go see if the Coke's in", and off they troop to enjoy youth's ritual of refreshment... a custom particularly "special" in these war days when there's less Coca-Cola.

The best is always the better buy!
